CIVIL ACTION NO. 09-CV-10034 (DPW)

Pending in the District of Massachusetts

AUSTIN PRECISION PRODUCTS, INC. D/B/A LARUE TACTICAL'S
EMERGENCY MOTION TO COMPEL DEPOSITION AND DOCUMENT
PRODUCTION OF L-3 COMMUNICATIONS EOTECH, INC. PURSUANT TO SUBPOENA

Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 37 and 45, Defendant, Austin Precision Products, Inc. d/b/a LaRue Tactical ("LaRue"), respectfully moves the Court to compel the attendance at deposition and to compel production of responsive documents of third-party L-3 Communications EOTech, Inc. ("EOTech") by February 3, 2011. LaRue properly served a subpoena for testimony and documents on EOTech on October 16, 2010. EOTech did not object, but has failed to produce documents or a witness. Fact discovery is scheduled to close on February 3, 2011, necessitating this emergency motion.

Both Plaintiff, Atlantic Research Marketing Systems Inc. ("A.R.M.S."), and LaRue are in the business of selling firearm accessories, including mounts used to attach optical accessories, such as scopes, lasers, lights, and sights, to firearms. A.R.M.S. filed suit against LaRue in the District of Massachusetts on January 9, 2009. (See A.R.M.S.'s Complaint, Dkt. No. 1.) A.R.M.S.'s complaint, as subsequently amended, includes allegations of patent infringement, trade dress infringement, false designation of origin and false advertising, trademark infringement, unfair competition, defamation, commercial disparagement, and tortuous interference with contractual and/or prospective business relations; and A.R.M.S. alleges that it has suffered damages to its reputation and lost sales and business opportunities as a result of allegedly defaming and/or disparaging statements regarding its business practices and products. (See A.R.M.S.'s Second Amended Complaint, Dkt. No. 120.)

EOTech is in the business of selling optical firearm accessories, and has in the past and/or currently sells A.R.M.S. mount products in conjunction with its optical firearm accessories. LaRue seeks third-party discovery of EOTech for information relevant to the claims and defenses in this litigation. Specifically, LaRue believes that EOTech is in possession of information and documents relating to, inter alia, the reputation of A.R.M.S. and A.R.M.S.'s products and any alleged damage thereto, the quality and durability of A.R.M.S.'s products, purchase and sales of A.R.M.S.'s products and any changes thereto and the reasons therefor, whether there was any decrease in purchase or sale of A.R.M.S. products and if so, the reasons therefor. LaRue served a subpoena, including document requests and topics for deposition, on EOTech on October 16, 2010. A copy is attached as Exhibit A.

EOTech has not objected to LaRue's document requests or deposition topics. Although counsel for EOTech has verbally indicated that EOTech would produce responsive documents and provide a witness for deposition, EOTech has not done so despite LaRue's repeated efforts to schedule a mutually convenient date.

On October 20, 2010, counsel for LaRue spoke with counsel for EOTech by telephone, and counsel for EOTech indicated that EOTech would agree to produce the documents responsive to LaRue's requests. (Declaration of C. Smith, ¶ 4.)

On November 24, 2010, counsel for LaRue contacted counsel for EOTech, informing EOTech that the parties were unable to reach a settlement in this case, and that third-party discovery would proceed. (See Correspondence between counsel for LaRue and EOTech, Exhibit B.)

On December 17, 2010, counsel for LaRue contacted counsel for EOTech again, requesting the production of documents and to schedule a deposition date prior to February 3, 2011, the close of discovery. (See Exhibit B.) On December 20, 2010, counsel for EOTech informed counsel for LaRue by telephone that EOTech was in the process of collecting documents, and would provide an update shortly. (Declaration of C. Smith, ¶ 5.) EOTech did not produce the responsive documents, or provide the stated update.

On January 4, 2011, counsel for LaRue contacted counsel for EOTech again, requesting an update on EOTech's document production and to schedule a deposition date. (See Exhibit B.)

On January 14, counsel for EOTech contacted counsel for LaRue by telephone and left a voicemail indicating that EOTech would produce responsive documents in the next week. (Declaration of C. Smith, ¶ 6.) However, EOTech did not produce documents as stated. Counsel for LaRue attempted to contact counsel for EOTech by phone several times in the following week, but was unable to reach counsel for EOTech. (Id. ¶ 7.)

On January 25, 2011, counsel for LaRue contacted counsel for EOTech again, noting that the discovery in this case would shortly close, and requesting a firm date for the deposition and document production. (See Exhibit B.) Counsel for LaRue has not received a response as of the date of this motion.

Because discovery in this litigation closes on February 3, 2011, (Dkt. Entry of December 17, 2010), LaRue seeks the Court's immediate assistance in obtaining the requested discovery. The discovery of EOTech is relevant to LaRue's defenses against A.R.M.S.'s claims in this litigation, and EOTech has never objected.

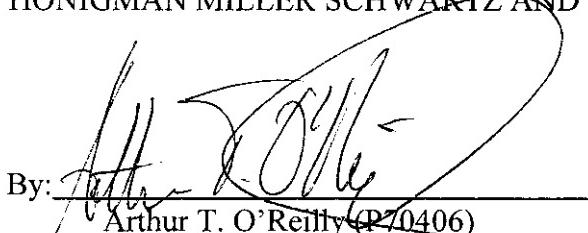

Despite reasonable efforts to contact counsel regarding the relief sought, the movant was unable to conduct a conference.

WHEREFORE, LaRue respectfully requests that the Court conduct an expedited hearing or immediately compel EOTech to provide a witness for deposition and to produce responsive documents by February 3, 2011.

Respectfully submitted,

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), and (e) (Effective 12/1/07)(c) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The issuing court must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction — which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees — on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

(i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the issuing court for an order compelling production or inspection.

(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the issuing court must quash or modify a subpoena that:

(i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;

(ii) requires a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer to travel more than 100 miles from where that person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person — except that, subject to Rule 45(c)(3)(B)(iii), the person may be commanded to attend a trial by traveling from any such place within the state where the trial is held;

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the issuing court may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

(i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information;

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party; or

(iii) a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(c)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

(i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and

(ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(d) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

(i) expressly make the claim; and

(ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(e) Contempt. The issuing court may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena. A nonparty's failure to obey must be excused if the subpoena purports to require the nonparty to attend or produce at a place outside the limits of Rule 45(c)(3)(A)(ii).

Hi Steve:

I have tried to reach you several times to discuss the subpoena. Yesterday, I left another message for you concerning getting a firm date for documents and a deposition. As you know, the discovery deadline in my case is next week. I would rather not move to compel production, but I will not have a choice if I do not receive a response soon. Please let me know if we can work out the details tomorrow.

Thanks,
Craig
